We are on this journey because ...

- Geography, in the broadest sense, is education for life and livelihood.
- When learning how to be a good Geographer, you will research and ask questions in order to understand the world we live in and the impact people have on the world.
- Learning through Geography helps us all to be more socially and environmentally sensitive, more informed, and more responsible as citizens and workers.
- A career in Geography could see you working in a role exploring some of the world's most important issues; such as climate change, or migration.
